

Ta Shebube and the lions of the Kgalagadi

Since the opening of Ta Shebube Rooiputs and Polentswa earlier this year, apart from safari enthusiasts with a keen interest in wildlife photography and remote and off the beaten track destinations, as expected the black-maned lions of the Kgalagadi have been regular visitors to Ta Shebube's private concession area and the camps' water holes. These photographs were taken by guests on safari with us whose 'wish list' was to photograph the Kgalagadi lions and preferably on red sand dunes.

Due to the scarcity of rain the more water-dependent wildlife of the Kgalagadi naturally frequently visit our two camps' waterholes and the other 80 well-established waterholes along the Auob and Nossob Rivers. Their proximity to the game drive roads makes them an ideal and close-up vantage point for photographers. And with Ta Shebube's facilities being built on raised wooden stilts overlooking the camps' nearby waterholes, our guests won't have to travel far for their fix of desert wildlife - see photo number 3. The Kgalagadi is also malaria free.

Ta Shebube Rooiputs

Ta Shebube's unique desert interpretation and game activities range from morning, afternoon and sunset game drives to full day safaris with picnic along the Auob or Nossob Rivers and educational nature and dune walks. Other highlights are traditional boma dinners with star gazing and in-room wellness massages which are at an optional extra cost and subject to availability.

Ta Shebube Polentswa

Equally good for desert game species and lions, the Nossob riverbed is also rated one of the best places in Southern Africa to view raptors particularly during the summer months when large numbers of migratory eagles, kites and falcons move through the park. Of the 80 raptors recorded in Southern Africa, 52 have been recorded in the KTP. The area around Polentswa Pan is dominated by vast flat and open tree savannah, interspersed by expansive grassy plains, large vegetated pans and smaller scattered salt pans and the characteristic fossil Nossob River.

- 7 classic tents, 1 desert suite, 1 family unit
- set in private concession on Botswana side of the KTP
- 200 km north of Two Rivers/Twee Rivieren park entrance
- spectacular far reaching views over Polentswa Pan
- bar, lounge, reading area, boma, bird hide
- en-suite tents set on raised wooden decks
- traditional dinners and star-gazing
- fully inclusive & full board/self-drive rates, guide's rates
- children welcome – minimum age 8
- Rooiputs combo includes full day game drive transfer
- attractively priced return seat rates Polentswa - Rooiputs
